ARKANSAS

Meeting of the Legislature—The Election for Constitution.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

MEMPHIS, April 3.—The Appeal's Little Rock special says: The Arkansas Legislature, newly elected, met and organized to-day at the Capitol. James N. Sarber, of Pope, was elected President of the Senate, and J. G. Price, of Little Rock, as Speaker of the House.

The result of the voting on the Constitution at the military polls has not been announced yet. There is no doubt that the State has gone against the Constitution by at least five thousand. The Radicals, however, claim a majority of several thousand. The Legislature adjourned until to-morrow.

The Erie Railroad Trouble—A Card from Mr. Drew.

By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

NEW YORK, April 3.—Daniel Drew, in a card in the Tribune, says: "As for the recent issue of bonds, it was made by the Directors under the very same law as that under which the Central road issued some millions of bonds a few years ago. Their right they believe to be unquestionable, and they will continue so to believe until the Courts decide otherwise. All the questions at issue will shortly come before Courts of competent jurisdiction. Should they decide the money entrusted to me as Treasurer of the Erie railroad has not been used for improving the road and extending its connections with the great West, but to be paid over to a receiver, I shall so pay it. If on the other hand the Courts decide in favor of the Erie railroad, its Directors will endeavor, so far at least as my influence goes, to make the Erie what it ought to be and what its managers have been for years seeking under enormous difficulties to make it, the best, safest and cheapest channel between the East and West."

Grain Shipping Difficulty.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

CHICAGO, April 3.—The difficulty between the grain shippers and vessel owners in regard to the question of responsibility for deficiencies on cargoes of grain is becoming more serious. At their last meeting the vessel owners resolved not to take any cargoes of grain under the newly adopted bill of lading, which requires them to account for the full amount of grain mentioned in the bill. Shippers, on the other hand, stand firm and insist on an acceptance of the new bill, and one hundred and one of the principal commission and shipping firms have signed an agreement to have no dealings with vessel owners who will not adopt it.

Barratry Case at St. Louis.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

ST. LOUIS, April 3.—The counsel for Cora James moved for a new trial, to-day, and the argument will be heard on Saturday. Pending the decision she was admitted to bail in four hundred dollars and immediately went to work with some of her suits.

FROM EUROPE.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

GREAT BRITAIN.

DEBATE ON THE IRISH QUESTION.

LONDON, April 3.—A division will take place to-night in the Commons on the Irish question. The Liberals are sanguine that the Government will be beaten, and believe a Liberal Cabinet certain. The course of the ministry is yet uncertain, however, as they have the option of resigning or appealing to the people by a dissolution of Parliament. The position of the new ministry is also uncertain, in case of coming into power.

FORTIETH CONGRESS.

The Impeachment Trial—The President's Speeches—Reporters on the Stand.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

WASHINGTON, April 3d, 1868.

SENATE.

The Chair, immediately after opening, was assumed by the Chief Justice. Proclamation was made in due form, the Managers took their seats, and the House appeared in numbers about equal to the Managers. The Journal was read in the meantime. The gallery was tolerably filled, for the first time with a fair sprinkling of sable faces among the spectators.

Senator DRAKE moved the Senate take up the proposition he offered yesterday to amend the Senate rules, and asked a vote upon it. It was read.

Senator EDMUNDS moved to strike out that part relating to the yeas and nays being taken by request of the presiding officer. Mr. Drake having no objection to the amendment of the Senator from Vermont, the rule was adopted as amended.

Chas. A. Tinker was re-called.

Mr. BUTLER, before interrogating Mr. Tinker, said: I will read a single paper. The paper is a message of the President of the United States, communicating to the Senate the report of the Secretary of State showing the proceedings under the concurrent resolution of the two Houses of Congress of the 18th of June in submitting to the Legislatures of several States an additional article to the Constitution of the United States.

Senator THAYER—What article?

Mr. BUTLER—The fourteenth article. It is dated June 26th, 1866. It is the same one to which the dispatch related, an Executive document of the first session of the Thirty-ninth Congress.

The examination of the witness was proceeded with. He identified the original copy of a speech of President Johnson on the 18th of August, 1866, telegraphed from Washington to the Associated Press.

Joseph B. Sheridan, stenographer, testified that he reported the speech of the President, made in the East Room of the White House, August 18th, 1866, which he took down, to the best of his ability, in short hand, and wrote it out, giving a copy to Colonel Moore, the President's private Secretary. He did not recognize the copy shown him by Mr. Butler as his own, but swore to having written out from his notes, afterwards, extracts from the speech. These were shown him in manuscript.

Cross-examined by Mr. EVARTS—The stenographic report in his note book was wholly written by himself. The speech occupied about twenty-five minutes. It was reported from sound, but attention was also paid to the sense. The portions written out were recently written out solely from the signs. Could write out notes correctly after a long lapse of time.

James A. Clephine, deputy clerk of the Supreme Court of the District of Columbia, was called: On September 18th, 1866, was employed in the Department of State; had been a stenographer for about eight years; was then engaged to report the President's speech. He transcribed from the notes a portion of the speech for the Associated Press. Did not recognize the manuscript shown him as being his own handwriting; he might have dictated it. At his request Mr. McFarland wrote out a literal report of the speech which the Chronicle published next morning, that paper being willing to take the copy furnished by Col. Moore. The report of the Chronicle was accurate, with the exception of a few words.

Cross-examined by Mr. EVARTS—Took phonographic notes of the entire speech; wrote it all out, but don't know where the manuscript is now; when he read the public speech he didn't have his notes before him; never compared them nor his manuscript of them with the printed speech.

Re-direct—The copy of the Chronicle before him contains the speech referred to.

Mr. BUTLER asked if it was a correct report?

Mr. EVARTS objected. It was impossible for witness to tell from memory.

Mr. BUTLER claimed that as he had twice re-written it, the witness could very well remember it, and his testimony was competent.

Mr. EVARTS argued in reply, maintaining the original notes must be produced, and also said the President had not been allowed an opportunity of correcting his speech, which all Congressmen use.

Mr. Tinker being recalled, produced a copy of the President's speech marked as having been sent over the wires by the Associated Press.

Mr. Sheridan recognized a portion of it as his own handwriting. There are corrections in this copy. Did not see them made, but believe they were made at the White House.

Cross-examined—Have corrected the papers; which corrections are in his own hand writing; only those pages were written from his own notes; this was done at the time by himself, but he has never since compared them; the copy before him was substantially a correct transcript of his notes.

Francis Smith, official reporter of the House of Representatives, testified he has been a stenographer for four years; was one of those employed by the agent of the Associated Press to report the speech referred to. [Produced his notes.] Wrote out a portion of the speech and delivered the sheets one by one to Col. Moore, who corrected them, as Col. Moore had stated he wished to revise them—not to make any substantial changes, but to revise the phraseology. Witness selected from the copy sent by telegraph the portions written out by himself.

Cross-examination by Mr. EVARTS—The manuscript was correctly made, substantially, but he had to correct the ungrammatical expressions.

Mr. Clephine was re-called. Recognized the manuscript of his report. He was cross-examined on his variations from strict accuracy. He made the meaning clear and corrected ungrammatical sentences.

Col. W. G. Moore, President's private secretary, testified he was appointed Paymaster, with the rank of Major, in November, 1866. In 1865 was made Private Secretary of the President. Before that time had been Assistant Adjutant General. He heard the speech of August 18th. Made some corrections in the report written out by stenographers, doing so without the assistance of a memoranda. Did not change the substance in any case, but altered the language. On examining the munuscript he finds no page in which his writing predominates. He made no change without the direction or authority of the President. The manuscript as revised was handed to the agent of the Associated Press. The President never said to witness he had done wrong in making these corrections.

Mr. BUTLER then proposed to read all the various reports of the speech and put them in evidence.

Mr. EVARTS objected that the report of the Chronicle is not proved by authentic evidence.

At this point 2:25 o'clock, the Court took a recess of fifteen minutes.

On re-assembling a motion was made to adjourn the Court from this evening till Monday next. Lost—nineteen to twenty-eight.

Mr. BUTLER then read the Associated Press report of the President's speech.

At its conclusion

Senator ANTHONY made a motion that a reporter of the Associated Press be admitted to the floor, but the CHIEF JUSTICE decided it was not now in order.

William N. Hudson, of the Cleveland Leader, testified: With the assistance of Mr. Johnsen, I reported the speech made by the President in Cleveland in September, 1866. Have my original notes. Only part was reported verbatim. The words which he did not use were in the synoptical portion.

Cross examined—The paper for which I reported was opposed to the President. Wrote my notes upon my knee. Omitted portions of the speech, but gave the drift. Have not compared the full report with my notes. My notes were not phonographical, but written in long hand. The synoptical portion as taken down was again reduced for publication. In making up my report I also made use of Mr. Johnson's report, which was taken in the same way.

Re-direct—There were many interruptions and pauses.

Mr. BUTLER—When the President and the crowd were bandying epithets?

Objected to and the question withdrawn.

Mr. BUTLER then asked what the crowd said, and told witness he might refresh his memory by memoranda before him.

Mr. EVARTS objected that newspapers were not memoranda. Objection argued.

The CHIEF JUSTICE ruled that the witness might refer to a newspaper copy, if he knew it to be correct.

Witness proceeded to read extracts, narrating interruptions, which enabled him to write out portions of what the President said verbatim.

Cross-examined—Took down what the crowd said, and at the same time caught up with my report of what the President said. Accounts of interruption which have just been given were all read by me from the papers before me.

D. C. McEwen, short-hand reporter, testified—Accompanied the President's party as reporter for the Herald. Witness produced a stenographical report of the Cleveland speech, and also a copy of an accurate transcript of the report written out and handed to the agent of the Associated Press, Mr. Gobright. Witness put down a portion of the interruptions. It was impossible to get all. There was a great deal of noise and confusion. I think there were expressions of ill feeling or temper on the part of the crowd. The President was a little excited. The crowd said, "don't get mad, Andy."

Mr. BUTLER—Did he appear considerably excited then?

Mr. EVARTS—That is not part of the present enquiry.

Mr. BUTLER—The allegation denies there was a scandalous and disgraceful scene, the conditions being that counsel for the President claim freedom of speech, and we claim decency of speech. We are now trying to show the indecency of the occasion.

Mr. EVARTS.—I understand freedom of speech in this country to mean liberty to speak properly and discreetly.

Mr. BUTLER.—I regard freedom of speech in this country as freedom of the private citizen to say anything in a decent manner.

Mr. EVARTS.—Yes, it is the same thing, and who is to judge of the decency?

Mr. BUTLER.—The Court before which a man is tried for breaking the law.

Mr. EVARTS—Did you ever hear of a man being tried for freedom of speech?

Mr. BUTLER—No; but I saw two or three who ought to have been.

Mr. BUTLER repeated the question to witness, who continued: I could not see the President; only heard the tone of his voice. He seemed excited I do not know what is his manner from personal acquaintance when he is angry.

On cross-examination witness said he had not a report of the whole speech; left before it ended; besides certain sentences broken off by interruptions of the crowd only took the principal exclamations; could not hear all hear of them; the transcript of the speech was made two weeks ago from the notes of two years ago; think them as accurate as if transcribed then.

Edwin B. Stark was examined—Was formerly a short hand reporter. Reported the speech of the President at Cleveland on the night of the 30th of September, 1866, for the Cleveland Herald in short hand. It was published; the notes are not now in existence; suppose they were thrown in the waste basket. [The copy of the paper was produced.]

Witness—In some places the substance is given instead of the literal words.

Read from a part of report just what Johnson said: "Where is the man living, or woman, in the community, whom I have wronged, or where is the person who can place their finger on one single pledge that I have violated, or one single violation of the Constitution of my country. What tongue does he speak, what religion does he profess? Let him come forward and put his finger upon one pledge I have violated."

Witness continued—There were then interruptions, and various remarks were made, of which I have noticed one, because it was the only one Mr. Johnson paid any attention to; that was, "A voice—Hang Jeff. Davis." The President said: "Hang Jeff. Davis! hang Jeff. Davis! Why don't you?" There was then some applause and interruptions, and he repeated, "Why don't you." There was again applause and interruptions and the President went on: "Have you not the court? Have you not got the courts? Have you not got the Attorney General? Who is your Chief Justice? Who has refused to sit at the trial?" There were then some interruptions and applause and he said: "I am not the prosecuting attorney. I am not the jury; but I will tell you what I did do. I called on your Congress, which is trying to break up the Government." Here were interruptions and confusion, and there may have been words uttered by the President which I did not hear; but I think not. Then the President went on to say, "But let prejudice pass."

Mr. BUTLER—Go to the conclusion, where you reported that accurately.

Witness—commencing a little before where the specification commences—He says: "In bidding you farewell here to-night, I would ask you, with all the pains that Congress has taken to calumniate and malign me, what has Congress done? Has it done anything to restore the Union of the States? But to the contrary, has it not done everything to prevent it? And because I stand now as I did when the rebellion commenced, I have been denounced as a traitor. My countrymen, here, to-night, who has suffered more than I? Who has run greater risk than I? Who has borne more than I? But Congress, factious, domineering, tyrannical Congress, has undertaken to poison the minds of the American people and create a feeling against me." So far' were Mr. Johnson's words.

Witness completed the sentence in this fashion: "In consequence of the manner in which I have distributed the public patronage." Those were not Mr. Johnson's words, but a condensation, a summary of the reasons which he gave at that point for the maligning.

Mr. EVARTS to Mr. Butler—Do you propose to put them all in?

Mr. BUTLER—We do. I observe in the answer of the President that objection is made that we did not put in all he said, and I mean to give all.

Witness was cross-examined by Mr. Evarts. He said in determining what part to give in full, and what part to condense, he was perhaps influenced somewhat by what he considered would be a little more spicy or interesting to the reader.

Mr. EVARTS—In what interest? Of the President or his opponents?

Witness—I do not know that.

Mr. EVARTS—On which side were you?

Witness—I was opposed to the President.

Mr. EVARTS.—But you did not know where you thought the interest was when you selected the spicy parts.

Witness.—I was very careful in all those parts where there was considerable excitement and interest in the crowd to take down carefully what the President said.

Mr. EVARTS.—The part which the crowd was most interested in you took down carefully?

Witness.—Yes.

Mr. EVARTS—And the part in which the crowd seemed to have the most interest was the part in which they made the most outcry?

Witness—Yes.

Mr. EVARTS—Are you able to say there is a single expression in that part of your report given substantially, which was used by the President, so that they are the words as they fell from his lips?

Witness—No, sir.

Mr. EVARTS said, we object to this report as no report of the President's speech.

Mr. BUTLER asked what were the politics of the Cleveland Herald at that time?

Witness—It was what was called Johnson-Republican; some called it Postoffice-Republican. The editor had the Postoffice.

Mr. BUTLER said he proposed to offer the Leader's report of the speech, as sworn to by Mr. Hudson.

Mr. EVARTS objected on the ground that the Managers are in possession of the original notes of the short-hand writer of the whole speech and of his transcript made therefrom and sworn to by him. The substitution for that evidence of the statement of Mr. Hudson, as testified to by him, is against the first principles of justice or of evidence. He has not testified how much of the report is his, and how much the reporter Johnson's. Besides, it is for the great part a condensed statement, directed by circumstances. The same objection may be made to this second Herald report.

Mr. BUTLER did not propose to withdraw the report of Mr. McEwen, but to put in all others.

After considerable argument Mr. BUTLER asked a decision of the question.

The CHIEF JUSTICE said he could not put the question on all three at once.

Mr. BUTLER—Then I will first offer the Leader report.

The CHIEF JUSTICE said it appeared from the statement of the witness that the report was not made by himself, but with the assistance of another person, whose notes are not produced or who is not himself produced as a witness. The Chief Justice thinks that paper inadmissable.

The yeas and nays were demanded on the admissability of the report and it was admitted—yeas thirty-five, nays eleven, Senators Howe and Trumbull voting with the Democrats in the negative.

Mr. BUTLER then offered the report prepared by Mr. McEwen.

Mr. EVARTS objected.

Mr. BUTLER offered the report of the Cleveland Herald.

Mr. EVARTS objected.

On motion of Senator EDMUNDS the Court adjourned till to-morrow at noon.

The Chair was vacated by the CHIEF JUSTICE and assumed by the President pro tem.

Senator ANTHONY called up the resolution to assign a place on the floor of the Senate to reporters of the New York Associated Press.

A debate of some length followed, in which several Senators warmly advocated the resolution as in the interest of the public, while opposition was shown by some members on the ground that agents of the Association at the South had systematically libelled the Reconstruction Conventions, and by others because the Association did not furnish news to all papers in the country.

Without reaching a vote the Senate adjourned till to-morrow.

HOUSE.

Very few members present. Several of them obtained a leave of absence. The Speaker presented a communication from General Schofield, relative to the expenses of the elections in the fiirst Military District. Referred to the Committee on Appropriations.

The House resolved itself into Committee of the Whole, and proceeded to the Senate Chamber, to witness the impeachment trial, with the understanding that no business be done on re-assembling.

Deducting the Sundays from forty years, leaves 12,520 working days, which at 30 miles a day makes a total of 375,600, equivalent to fifteen times the distance round the world, and 600 miles over. He is now sixty years of age, and is hale and hearty.

—On Thursday evening of last week, a large flock of wild geese passed over town, making the air vocal with their discordant notes. Somewhat strangely, however, instead of flying in a Southerly direction as they generally do at this particular season of the year, their flight was due North—and this was considered by many of our "weather prophets" as an infallible sign of falling weather.—Hanover Spectator.

—A bridge in course of erection over Stoney Creek, Johnstown, was upset the other day, and several people who were upon it narrowly escaped with their lives, as the water was high. Wesley Rose was severely injured in the spine. Mrs. Bowen was injured by her fall, and was going down for the third time in the deep waters when she was rescued barely alive; a small boy had a leg broken, and several others were more or less injured. The bridge was but a temporary one, being erected because the stone bridge had been swept away by the recent floods, and could not speedily be replaced.

BY THE FORSAKEN.

LADY BYRON.

Forsaken! Oh! if thou hadst been
An outcast from mankind for aye,
The desolate, the desert scene,
Where thou wast driven in scorn away,
Had been my proudly chosen path.
Forgiven for being thus thy slave;
And I had borne thy sorrows wrath,
And every wound thy spirit gave;
My only prayer, that more than all
In sufferance I might hold thee dear,
And never by a look recall
The thought of thanks I would not hear,
But e'en that silence of my breast
Was searched, accused, revenged as crime,
'Till shrank, all wasted and unblest,
The heart that would not chill by time;
But it must come thine hour of tears,
When self-adorning pride shall bow,
And thou shalt own my "blighted years"—
The fate that thou inflictest—Thou!
Thy victim!—but from ruin still
Shall rise a wan and drooping peace,
With pardon for unmeasured ill,
Ond pity's tears—if love must cease.

—Barney Williams, it is said, has made $100,000 this year. He is now worth half a million.

—Secretary Welles has offered his house for sale. Even straws show which way the wind blows.

—Louisville has a mule which is to rival Dexter one day. It has already trotted a mile in 2:21.

—Q. K. Philander Doesticks P. B. has had the misfortune to lose his father, he has recently gained a son.

—Mr. and Mrs. Florence are still drawing as well as a Bierstadt or a Church in McVicker's Theatre in Chicago.

—Smyrna, in Delaware, has seventy-eight drinking establishments and one thousand one hundred and seventy inhabitants.

—A converted Jew, Monsieur Baner, is the great sensational preacher this Lent in Paris. He has his pulpit in the Madeline.

—The turkish Sultan gets into passions and smashes pier glasses. His harem is in awe of him, and behaves itself accordingly.

—A Chicago critic says that Forrest ought to be successful as Falstaff. This is supposed to be an unkind cut at his huge proportions.

—White Velveteen, with gilt fringe, is the proper thing for table cloths at the grand dinners of the nouveaux riches in New York.

—The Queen Dowager of Prussia, who is a sister of the Queen regent of Saxony and of the Archduchess Sophia of Austria, is seriously ill.

—A St. Louis exchange is so charmed with the sentence, "Green Peas at Charleston, S. C.," that it repeats it three times in one day's paper.

—"Miss H. dances with abandon and always attracts much attention" says a Buffalo paper. To which an exchange replies, "and no wonder either, if Miss H. dances with nothing but a band on."

—Boston has glass letter-boxes. Yankees are so inquisitive that we suppose this is necessary so that every one can see the letters and the addresses on them.

—Mr. Gladstone's father was what is called a self-made man; having been a poor cabin boy, but dying as a baronet of great wealth, which was principally made in the slave trade.

—Admiral Farragut is again able to be about and walk his quarter deck. We wait anxiously for his recovery to be so complete that he can walk the whole deck, from stem to stern.

—The Queen of Great Britain is going to Germany again. Malicious people do say that she prefers German to English and runs her political engine according to the directions of German engineers.

—A London musical paper says that by the adaptation of Barker's system of electricity to organs, a performer in England can play on an instrument in America. Just as if we hadn't as good performers here as in England.

—The New York Herald denies that the opera of La Belle Helene is indecent. The Herald, if it can remember what has appeared in its own columns from time to time, should feign not to know what indecency is to save its own credit.

—The last member of the family of the furious French revolutionist, Murat, died recently in Vienna. Her name was Dorothea Sapres, and she was grand niece of the victim of Charlotte Corday, as well as lady's maid of the Baroness Dursch.

—A wild horse on the prairies is said to have been frightened to death on seeing a locomotive near Omaha. If they stay near the U. P. R. R., the whole breed of mustangs will probably become extinct unless the defunct equine spoken of above was particularly excitable.

— member of the French Legation carried a little jeweled opera glass with him, at the last President's levee, through which he stared at the white shoulders of the ladies. Some one should have kicked him until he got to the end of the stairs.

—Wizard Anderson has juggled his wife back to him again, and the whole affair of elopement, murder, suicide and robbery is looked on as a stupendous advertising dodge of the magician, who is not, by the way, the Great Wizard of the North, of world-wide fame.

—One of the finest organs in the country, and a collection of beautiful paintings—the subject of which are the stations of the cross—are to be placed in the great Roman Catholic cathedral in Philadelphia this month. Bishop Wood procured the paintings while in Rome last summer.

—The Pope, in a recent order, says: "Women with extravagant head dresses shall not, in future, be admitted to the communion." The next thing will be a school where priests can learn the cost of millinery so that they may at a glance be able to decide what is extravagant and what is not.

—A New York clergyman reprimanded his choir for whispering during service the other day. As a general thing choirs seem to think that when not singing they must be gossiping and laughing in church, much to the disturbance of worshippers in the galleries. Of course there are choirs in every city which demean themselves properly, but their name, if we mistake not, is decidedly not legion.

—The Chicago Republican says "the model of all roads, in pendulum-like regularity, is the Pennsylvania Central." The compliment is by no means an undeserved one, as any one can testify who has had much to do with railway traveling. Not that the Pennsylvania road is by any means as perfect in its arrangements and comforts as it might be, but that it is very much more so than any other.

—Poor Forrest has, we fear, stayed too long upon the stage. He meets with no grand triumphs now such as he used to when he had the strength of Hercules, the voice of a Titan, the figure of an Antonious, read like Apollo and ranted like no one but Edwin Forrest. His reading and ranting are the same as ever, or were when we saw him a year or two ago, but age and rheumatism have played "celestial smash" with the roar and the figure. In Chicago and St. Louis he did not succeed in filling his theatres.

—Hon. Anson Burlingame and suite of Celestials have arrived in San Francisco.

—Retirement does not agree with the martyr-patriot R. E. Lee. He is said to be aging very fast.

—Miss Burdett Coutts, it is said, never gives as a donation less than £500, and she is giving all the time.

—La Duchesse de Maille and M'lle de Courson, young ladies of the highest fashion in Paris, have just taken the veil.

—The Royal Astronomical Society of England has honored itself by presenting the renowned Le Verrier with a gold medal.

—Goldwin Smith has sent to Brown University a superb photographic album of large size, filled with views of the Oxford Colleges.

—Five ex-chancellors of England have a life pension of $25,000 a year. The oldest of these aristocratic pensioners is Lord Brougham.

—It is said that Andrew Johnson selected Evarts for counsel because he was the prosecutor of Jeff. Daivs, of whom he is very jealous.

—Count Welles de la Valette, Secretary of the French House of Deputies, was born in Connecticut and is a son of Mrs. Samuel Welles, who married the Marquis de la Valette.

—The Havanese would not call on Jeff. Davis when he was in their Capital. The arch-traitor occasionally gets a taste of the bitterness which broke Benedict Arnold's heart.

—Mr. Evarts, of Johnson's counsel, is a diminutive man and a remarkably agreeable and eloquent one, if any reliance can be placed on G. A. T., who says that in spite of being retained by the President he is a Republican.

—Father Ignatius, he of sack-cloth and sandals notoriety, has been preaching in London exclusively to men. He has completely recovered from the attack of diptheria which he brought on by going to church in his bare feet.

—D'Israeli, the plebian, the scorned Hebrew, the finicky author of fashionable novels, has risen to such a pinnacle of greatness that he has four Dukes, those of Richmond, Marlborough, Montrose and Buckingham under his command in the Cabinet.

—Pendeltonians are moving Heaven and earth to move August Belmont. But the wealthy representative of the Rothschilds understands his own and his patrons' interests too well to allow, if he can help it, any repudiator to acquire a seat in the White House.

—George Alfred Townsend, who is acquiring a style second only to that of the renowned Jenkins, and a reputation almost equalling the bombastic Train, objects to Wade, Forney and anybody else who, judging by his letters, forget that he claims to be a gentleman.

—Mr. Frank Swift is said to be in Cincinnati teaching people to skate on rollers in the new parlor skating Rink in that city. The papers are loud in the praise of the new amusement, which is said to be as healthy and as popular as was the other rink a few weeks since.

—The eldest son of Lola Montez has resigned a prominent position in the Bavarian army to be able the more thoroughly to enjoy a fortune which has been left to him. He occupies the little grey house with green blinds, which all visitors to Munich have had pointed out to them as the former residence of the Countess of Landsfeldt.

PARIS, which is always relating strange stories, sends one a Twelfth Night fete. In dividing the ring cake, a lady of the company requested that her share should be given to the poorest boy that could be found. Not far from the house was discovered an urchin, trembling with cold and hunger. He was brought into the aristocratic mansion and received his slice of cake. Strangely enough in his piece was found the prize, which made him king. On being told to choose his queen he picked out the lady to whom he was indebted for his good luck, without being aware that she had relinquished her right in his favor. He was asked how he hapened to select her, and replied that it was because "she looked the most like mother." Further inquiry brought out the fact that he was the child of the lady, had been stolen from her in infancy, and at that moment had her portrait in a locket upon his neck.

CERVICAL CHARACTERISTICS.—A thick neck is generally considered an evidence of strong animal propensities. Hence it is with fear and trembling for the future of a sister city that we read the announcement: "Boston neck is to be widened." Regarded morally, Boston neck was long since stiffened.

PARIS is agog at a swindling affair, perpetrated upon Baron d'Espeleta by an escaped convict whom that nobleman had taken into his service as steward. The fellow made off with jewels, money, and portable valuables, together with some $15,000 in bonds with which he had been confidentially entrusted.

Erie fell to 73¾ and Central to 122; other stocks were of ¼@1 per cent. Both rumors soon proved to be groundless and Erie recovered to 74, and the balance of the market advanced. ## RIVER NEWS.

The river appeared to be stationary last evening with six feet two or three inches in the channel by the Monongahela marks. An Oil City telegram reported the Allegheny stationary at that point with thirty-four inches in the channel. The weather yesterday was clear and pleasant, and all that could possibly be desired for the transaction of out-door business.

The Robt. Moore, from Portsmouth; Jas. Rees, from Wheeling, and Kate Robinson, from Louisville, constitute the arrivals, and the Moore, Rees and St. Charles were the only departures. The St. Charles did not have as good a trip as she did last week, though she got considerable freight, nevertheless. It would appear that passengers, as a general thing, prefer going through by rail.

The Maggie Hays, from St. Louis, and Grey Eagle, from Parkersburg, were due last night, and will doubtless be found in port this morning. The Eagle returns as usual at noon.

The Glasgow, Capt. Johnston, is filling up steadily for Upper Mississippi, and will take her departure this evening. She is an excellent craft in all respects, and offers superior inducements to passengers. The Glasgow will be followed by the Emma No. 3, Capt. Jas. H. Marratta.

A telegram, from St. Louis, announces the safe arrival of the Wild Duck and barges at that point. This is excellent time for a boat towing two barges, containing eleven hundred tons of freight, as she left here on Thursday week.

Capt. Charles Beers came up as one of the pilots of the Armadillo. Capt. Beers piloted the Sallie (Capt. Stockdale's new boat) from Cincinnati to St. Louis, and he says that she is the easiest steering boat he was ever on, and she is also fast, making it from Cairo to St. Louis in thirty-two hours, with her guards dragging in the water. Capt. Stockdale has but few equals in superintending the construction of a boat, as this, his last effort, abundantly shows.

The Armadillo, Capt. D. L. Hendrickson, is announced for St. Louis and Missouri river, and passengers and shippers should bear this in mind. The Importer, Captain Williams, of the "Rees Line," is up for Fort Benton, as also the Ida Rees, Captain Albert and Silver Lake, Capt. Todd, of the same line.

The Armenia left for St. Louis yesterday afternoon, and the Melnotte left for the same point last evening. The Melnotte did not have much when she left here, but she may pick up enough to fill out with below.

The Echo is the regular packet for Oil City to-day, leaving promptly at 4 p. m.

A St. Louis telegram, under date of Wednesday, says: Arrivals: Tennessee, from Pittsburgh; Champion, Cincinnati, Glasgow, Omaha; McPike and Rob Roy, Keokuk; City of Pekin, Peoria; Minnesota, Reed's Landing; Alice V, New Orleans; Belle Memphis, Memphis; Silver Cloud No. 2, Pittsburgh; Bannock City, Winona. Departures: Rob Roy and McPike, for Keokuk; Mary McDonald, Omaha; City of Pekin, Peoria; City of Cairo, Memphis; Nightingale and Lawrence, Cincinnati; Lorena and Bellevernon, Pittsburgh; Welcome, Omaha; Silver Cloud, Dubuque; Favorite, Illinois river. The river is falling, and the upper streams are on the decline. The weather is warm, close and showery, this evening, with prospects of a storm to-night. Business is brisk on all the upper rivers. Receipts are heavy from all points. A dispatch from Virginia City, Montana, says there is very little snow on the mountains and the prospect for water is poor. All the streams in that country are open. Capt. Newman Robirds, a well-known steamboatman, died here to-day.

The towboat Storm No. 3, on her way to this port with a tow of iceboats, is reported in difficulty, having grounded two of her boats at Eagel's Nest. One of the boats is stated to be in a very precarious condition. The Mountaineer and Arabian were taken to the docks to be put in final order for the trip to Benton. The Nile and Success passed Council Bluffs yesterday for Benton, and the Deer Lodge for the same place, took 100 tons at Sioux City. The Nightingale left for the Ohio with 100 tons of pig iron and 100 tons blooms for Pittsburgh, 100 tons ore for Louisville, and 100 tons miscellaneous.

The Madison Courier, of Monday, says: We had the pleasure of meeting Capt. De Haven on West street this morning. The contract for building Capt. De Haven's mammoth steamer Alpha, has been awarded by the Board of Directors at New Orleans to the Madison builders. James S. Garnett, for many years connected with the mail boats and packets, and recently a resident of this of this city, died of consumption on the 15th inst., at the residence of his brother, in Maysville, Ky.

The Evansville Journal,of Tuesday, says: The Quickstep and Mollie Norton made a dash against time last evening. Going up nearly to the mouth of the bayou, she came down under a full head of steam, passing the point, the Quickstep in nine minutes and thirty seconds, and the Norton on five minutes and thirty-eight seconds. The Norton took a little wider swing than the Quickstep to clear the Pine Grove, which was coming up, and demanded the starboard. Hundreds of people crowded Water street and the roofs of steamers at the wharf to witness the specimen of fast sailing.

The Dubuque Times, of Sunday, says: The success of the Merry barge enterprise is already bearing rich fruits destined to drop into the lap of the Northwest. As one of the results of this movement, we are pleased to chronicle an important reduction of freight destined for New Orleans by the Illinois Central Railroad Company. Yesterday Mr. C. A. Beck, the Dunleith agent of the above company, received a telegraphic dispatch informing him that hereafter a reduction of fifty cents per hundred on sacked grain, and $1 per barrel for flour, would be made from this point to New Orleans.

A Memphis telegram, under date of Wednesday, says: Last night a negro, on the Sam Hale, detected in an attempt to steal a box of tobacco, was tied down to the deck of the Darling. The negroes on the levee heard of it, and went aboard, demanding his release. The watchman, named Taylor, struck the leader, named Johnson, on the head with a hatchet, wounding him severely. The negroes became infuriated. Taylor jumped on the Darling, and but for the arrival of the police, would have been killed. He was held to answer on a charge of assault with intent to kill.

GOLD closed in New York yesterday at 137⅞.

THE PRESIDENT has signed the bill releasing domestic manufactures from the internal tax, and it is now a law.

The General Synod of the Evangelical Lutheran Church is to meet in Harrisburg, May 7th. Twenty-one Synods have already elected delegates. We believe delegates are to be elected from two or three other Synods.

THE N. Y. Tribune states that assurances are received from Washington "that General GRANT finds it not inconsistent with his duty as a soldier, to announce it as his opinion that the only hope for the peace of the country, is the success of the pending impeachment trial. He feels that the national security demands the removal of the President."

THE NEW English Ministry, under D'Israeli as Premier, has encountered, in its first month of power, such a formidable combined opposition, in the Commons, on the question of the Irish Church, that serious apprehensions were felt yesterday, by its friends, that it was about to be beaten in a division. The vote was to have been taken last night. If the majority should be against Ministers, they have but two alternatives before them, viz: to resign office in favor of a Liberal cabinet, or dissolve Parliament and appeal to a new election.

IT WILL BE STRANGE if the Legislature should close its present session without unwittingly passing some measure that will prove detrimental to the great petroleum interest of the State, for there seems to be a determination on the part of professional bores to snake through some bill that will seriously interfere with the prosperity of those engaged in that trade. No sooner is an odious measure nipped in the bud through the prompt action of the oil dealers and refiners, than a new one bursts out and has to be met. There has just been introduced for legislation a bill providing that all crude oil shall be guaged by local inspectors in Venango county before shipped to any point. There is not the shadow of reason for such a law. Its passage would largely increase the expenses of oil men by imposing a burdensome tax for double guaging, and accomplish no good whatever. The rule is now that oil be guaged at its destination, and it is the proper one. The bill should be killed at once, as there is no necessity for such legislation unless it be to afford rich pickings to those who hold position as guagers in Venango county.

IMPEACHMENT.

The Managers are proceeding rapidly with their case, and it is stated that all their evidence-in-chief will be closed to-day. The counsel for the defense will open with an argument from Judge CURTIS on Monday. Until their line of defense shall become developed, it is mere speculation to express an opinion as to its character. The introductory argument will, therefore, be looked to with much curiosity. The evidence for the Managers, in support of the charges based upon Mr. JOHNSON'S speeches, is unexpectedly clear and indisputable. Several phonographers testified to the accuracy of their reports of the White House speech of August '65, and the fact was also elicited that their notes were revised for publication by the President's Private Secretary, who yesterday testified to that effect. The objections, among our friends, to the introduction of this matter among the charges preferred by the Managers, so far as it was predicated upon a supposed difficulty in the making of proof, seems thus far to have little foundation.

DEMOCRATIC ELECTIONEERING.

A dispatch from our attentive Harrisburg correspondent apprises us that the Senate have decided the contested election-case from the 21st district, the Committee having reported, by a vote of five to two, in favor of ROBINSON, (Rep.) and he was accordingly sworn in, ousting SHUGART, (Dem.) who has hitherto sat. We congratulate the Senate, and the people of that district, upon this issue of the contest. Our readers are aware that by Copperhead intrigues, ballot-stuffing, perjury, and even by murder, that party had continued to count out a nominal majority in October for their candidate. The Republicans demanded a scrutiny of the polls, and the result has disclosed an amount and degree of political and personal villainy, in tampering with the freedom and purity of the elective franchise, such as was never before exposed to the sight of an indignant constituency in any quarter of this Commonwealth. The evidence has conclusively established that bribery, perjury, violence, maiming and murder were used as the Democratic means of success. The entire of this mystery plot against the rights of the people of that district—an assault, as well, upon the purity of the ballot-box all over the Commonwealth—has now been uncovered and exposed to the world. We trust that the establishment of the civil right will be followed by the punishment of the criminal offences which have been made patent. The guilty parties should be made to suffer the severest penalties of the law. How much these Democratic "frauds" have aided a kindred scheme of rascality in some of the districts of Philadelphia, to secure the meagre majority for Judge SHARSWOOD last fall, may yet be more clearly demonstrated by the further investigations which are still in progress.

SOUTHERN CENTRAL OF N. Y.

We have heretofore detailed a number of fresh New York enterprises for tapping the Authracite Coal Fields of Pennsylvania. Still another has been brought forward, and even commenced. This is known as the Southern Central Railroad of New York. It starts from Fair Haven, on Lake Ontario, runs by way of Auburn, and thence to Owego, on the North Branch of the Susquehanna river, a total length of one hundred miles. At Owego it will intersect the Erie Railway, thus obtaining a direct connection with the City of New York. From Owego, also, it will obtain a direct connection with Philadelphia, by following the Erie to Great Bend, and there taking the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western to Easton; or, which is better, following the Erie to Lanesboro, where it will intersect the Lehigh and Susquehanna, which is now building, going down that road to Bethlehem, there taking the North Pennsylvania to Philadelphia. All that would be needful on this latter line to do away with the necessity for changing cars between Lake Ontario and Philadelphia would be the putting down of a third rail between Owego and Lanesboro.

Fifteen miles of the Southern Central have already been completed, and the remaining sections are being pushed forward with great energy.

Fair Haven is represented to be a port of much larger capacity and superior excellence to Oswego, and it has been selected as a terminus with a view to sending anthracite, in large quantities into Canada, bringing back, as return freight, the valuable lumber with many districts of that country still abound. Nor are these the only advantages the route offer. The country through which it runs is remarkably fertile, and in all other particulars is one of the most delightful.

Considering that only five counties of Pennsylvania yield anthracite, and considering the quantities annually mined and marketed, and the new avenues constructed or projected to the same end, it is evident that the problem of exhausting the deposits in the least possible period will soon be put to a practical test.

OUR WATER-COMMUNICATIONS.

We have a copy of the very able report which Hon. M. B. LOWRY, of the Senate Committee on Federal Relations, has submitted to that body, relative to the proposed improvement in the navigation-facilities by the Ohio river, connecting therewith the subject of an enlargement of the Canal from Beaver to Erie. The just claims upon the public consideration, which attach to these subjects, are presented by that gentleman with marked ability. He is also eminently successful in exhibiting the very intimate relations which bind the flourishing Lake-port of the Commonwealth to the districts surrounding the head of the Ohio river, and especially to the great city which is seated here, and which illustrates by its industry, its energy and its wealth, the vast material progress of Pennsylvania.

Recognizing, to the utmost limit, the just value of the railway system for the carriage of freights where time is really a vital element, Mr. LOWRY presents the advantages of the proposed improvement in the water-carriage of this quarter of the State in the clearest light. Having shown that the two measures, combined and regarded as an unit, are practically within the ability of the Commonwealth, no sufficient financial objections standing in the way of the successful prosecution of the enterprise, he proceeds to discuss the constitutional question, and certainly makes a strong case, establishing the legal title of the Commonwealth, by a sale or exchange of some of its present valuable securities, to grant that aid which would ensure the completion of these most desirable improvements.

Any measures which have practical merit at their basis, and which look to the more intimate fusion of the material interests of Western Pennsylvania, shall never be denied such support as we may be able to render. We hold it to be especially incumbent upon us to promote in all possible ways the closest possible connections between the people of that section of the Commonwealth which constitutes its northwestern extension to the Lakes, and of the city of Pittsburgh. Our city is, or should be, for every practical purpose, the metropolis of all that territory. Our interests are nearly identical, our affiliations, social, political and in trade, are strongly marked. The population of the rich counties of Erie, Crawford, Mercer, Venango, Lawrence, Beaver and Butler naturally must regard Pittsburgh as their market, while our own men of business look to the same population for the traffic which they will prefer to bring to us as long as we continue able to supply their demands upon fair terms and with adequate facilities for communication. With connections so natural, and with sympathies and common interests so decisively marked, we ought ever to regard with favor, and heartiiy co-operate in promoting, such measures as shall bind these communities together the more closely. That day which shall see it confessed by all that Pittsburgh and the counties we have specified belong in many respects to each other—as the same fact holds true in relation to the other counties lying west of the Allegheny mountain-crest and sweeping from Greene and Fayette northward to Warren and McKean—that day, which is sure to come, and come soon, which shall establish beyond cavil the united homogeneous interests, material and social, of a territory broad enough for another Commonwealth of its own, will not only witness a provincial advancement beyond the most sanguine dreams, but will see our city, its metropolis, the seat of a million of human beings.

We have been sometimes tempted to believe that the importance, to all the material interests of the State, of its hold upon the lakes, at the thriving and prosperous port of Erie, is not adequately appreciated by the present generation of our citizens. Our fathers knew that value thoroughly, and while the region was yet a wilderness, they looked forward to the assured triumphs of their children over all the obstacles of nature and to the redemption of this fertile territory to the sustenance and profit of man. Let us imitate their wisdom by a better and clearer perception of our mutual relations in these days of our prosperous growth. Erie is our lake port, and as such, she is effectively but an outlying ward of Pittsburgh. Let us regard her as such and be as prompt to promote her interests as our own. Her citizens recognize the overshadowing influence which enterprise and wealth have given to the Iron City. It is but simple justice to ourselves as well as to her that we should never disregard her just claims upon our moral and substantial co-operation and sympathy. Let our young sister-city march on in her rapid and triumphant development of every element of prosperity. If she shall finally overshadow us, in her turn, we pledge to her our hearty allegiance, as we now count on hers. Until that, and after that, she can count surely upon the heartiest sympathy and support of her Pittsburgh brethren in all just propositions for the common interest.

We cannot close this reference to a very broad and suggestive subject without acknowledging the obligations which we all owe, to such gentlemen as Mr. W. M. ROBERTS and Senator LOWRY, for their clear and perspicuous presentation, upon this and other occasions, of the very important material considerations to which we have alluded. Nor can we forbear quoting, from the Senator's Report, a paragraph in which he does not overdraw the picture of our future prosperity, as affected by the success of those measures which he is now advocating. He says:

"Your committee have already adverted in general terms to the great general advantages that may be derived, by the people of Pennsylvania, from this work. In addition to the suggestions already made, it may be proper to remark, that this measure will be equivalent to making Pittsburgh a city upon the lake shore. Vessels or barges laden at Chicago with grain, at Lake Superior with iron or copper ore, or at Green Bay with lumber, may be towed through this canal and discharge their cargoes at Pittsburgh, whilst the steamers from the Gulf may be moved alongside lake wharves, and empty into their laps the rich products of the tople. It opens a grand chain of internal water communication, greater than has ever heretofore been projected, and brings it into the heart of our own State. Through the agency of this short canal, the dwellers on the remote Gulfs of St. Lawrence and Mexico, separated by a distance that spans one-fourth of the circumference of the world, embrace each other and drink to the health of commerce from the bright and sparkling waters of the mountain streams of Pennsylvania. The vessels that can ascend the rapids of the St. Lawrence may pass through the Welland canal, ride over the ridge that separates the lakes and the Mississippi, and upon the bosom of the Ohio glide onward to the gulf, receiving and discharging her freights at thousand intermediate ports that dot the shores of this great commercial route. The rich ores of Lake Superior, more indispensable in Pennsylvania than elsewhere, will through this route find an outlet to the south and to our south-western cities, whilst the engines and machinery of Pittsburgh, and the iron and coal required for working her mines, in return, finds ready transit and cheap transportation, to fields where their sturdy strokes will develop the vast wealth of the country. The products of the great wheat fields of the nation—Minnesota, Wisconsin and Michigan, and Northern Illinois, Indiana and Ohio—will be carried to our mills and to our doors, at a great reduction on their transportation, and the prices of food, for the sustenance of man, will be materially reduced in Pennsylvania, whilst this improvement will assist in making the great machine-shop of nations."

RELIGIOUS INTELLIGENCE.

The Christian Convention, we announced some time ago, was held in Philadelphia last week. The address of welcome was delivered by Rev. Dr. Newton, of the Protestant Episcopal Church, after which Rev. John Hall, D. D., of New York, followed with an address on "Christian Activity." George H. Stuart, Esq., was chosen permanent Chairman of the Convention. The discussions were signalized for the kind, loving spirit that prevailed. Prominent among the laymen, were Judge Smith, of Boston, D. L. Moody, of Chicago, Wm. Welsh, of Philadelphia and others. Five topics were discussed. We can only give a condensed view of each one, owing to the lack of space. First, "What can the laymen of our Cuhrches do for Christ?" It was shown that a layman of a Church is annointed, commissioned and required to be a prophet, priest and king in his Divine Master's service. The Scriptures give this authority. Laymen may hold up the hands of ministers, pray for them, sympathize and cooperate with them. They should improve opportunities to speak and work for Christ. They may do much good by holding meetings for prayer, instruction and out-door services. Second, "What can the women of the Churches do for Christ." Women have examples in "Mary," "Priscilla," "Dorcas" and others, who were helpers for Christ. The Church of the present day have as much work for her Pheobes, Priscillas and Dorcases, as when these women lived. They may instruct neglected women in Bible knowledge, visit the poor and distressed in their houses, and use every means to elevate the outcasts of their own sex. Third, "The potency of individual efforts for the salvation of man." A man should use the same zeal and effort that politicians and business men display. Individual effort is sanctioned by God. Such influences should be exerted with relations and those who may be controlled by personal contact. Fourth, "How can we influence the large proportion of our population, who are not reached by ordinary means of grace?" By going out into the highways and hedges and pressing the careless and indifferent into the Kingdom of Grace. Personal interviews are suggested; visiting from house to house and inviting people to the house of God; invite all classes; visit public places and persuade young men to attend Church, and address letters to impenitent persons. Fifth, "How can we best promote revivals of religion?" Supplication at the throne of grace, in private, and the frequent holding of public meetings for prayer. The closing meeting in the Church of the Epiphany was an occasion long to be remembered, and tokens of the presence and power of the Holy Ghost were manifested on the occasion. It is believed that the spirit of brotherly union was greatly promoted, and that good results will grow out of this meeting.

A correspondent of the Independent, denies the charge that the "Christian Connection," (often called "Christ-ians") require immersion as a prerequisite to membership. He affirms "they do not" make immersion a prerequisite to membership; nor do they refuse to receive those into full fellowship who have received baptism in infancy or adult years by sprinkling. Though their clergy very rarely administer baptism in other ways than by immersion, they never make it a test.

It is gratifying to note the advanced sentiment among those in high positions in the Catholic Church, on the subject of dancing. Archbishop Spaulding calls attention to the Pastoral Letter of the late Plenary Council at Baltimore, in reference to "round" dances, so dangerous to morals and Christian sentiment. This Pastoral, signed by the Catholic Bishops of the United States, has been approved by the Holy See. It warns the people "especially against those fashionable dances which, as at present carried on, are revolting to every feeling of delicacy and propriety, and fraught with the greatest danger to morals."

The Religious Telescope, organ of the United Brethren in Christ, reports additions of two thousand to that body during the month of March.

Bishop Domenec, of this Diocese, announces that the blessing of Holy-Oils will take place Maundy-Thursday, 9th inst., and that the Pontifical Mass will begin at 10 o'clock. The services of the day in the congregations of the city and suburbs will be arranged so as to allow the pastors with their assistants to be present in St. Paul's Cathedral, at the hour above appointed. The services will doubtless be imposing.

Contributions were received by the different Presbyterian Boards to the amount of nearly fifty-five thousand dollars during the month of February. The principal portion of this sum was for Foreign and Domestic Missions.

The Presbyterian Banner represents the church of Reboboth, Presbytery of Redstone, one of the oldest west of the Alleghenies, as enjoying a high degree of prosperity. Twenty-six have been recently received on profession of faith and others are deeply impressed. It has a membership of two hundred and forty.

Rev. Stephen Tyng, Jr., has sent a written reply to Bishop Potter, protesting against the sentence administered at the Church of the Transfiguration. After referring to the humiliating position he was placed by the ecclesiastical authorities of the diocese, he states that as soon as his Lenten engagements will permit, to present to him and the public a full and frank review of the whole proceedings. He refers to the Church where the scene occurred, the presence of the city police, the witnesses, the religious services preceding and following the admonition, and especially the rude refusal to receive the protest of his venerable and revered counsel and father—all of which were adapted, if not intended, to aggravate the attempted disgrace.

LETTER FROM NEW YORK.

Moving Day and Rents--The Demand for Houses--Growth of the City--Items of Business, Politics and Fashion.

[Special Correspondence of the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

As the great moving day approaches, the question of rents assumes more and more importance. The rents for stores will probably be lower than last year, though but little, while rents for private dwellings will mainly remain at about the same figures as heretofore; in some sections, however, an advance is being made. Quite a vigorous attempt was made by landlords early in the season to secure a general advance, but the immediate demand for houses was not equal to the expectation, and the effort failed. Undoubtedly rents for dwelling houses would have materially declined this year had the supply of houses at all kept pace with the demand; but the high price of building material and labor has prevented this, for although the seemingly large number of 3,000 houses was added to our lists during the past year, this was by no means an adequate increase. The deficiencies in the number of houses will doubtless keep rents to the maximum for a considerable time, but this is fast becoming modified by the turning of much of the city's tide of population towards the suburbs and the neighboring sister cities. The homes of many of our business people are to be found thirty or forty miles away. Every year largely increases the number of those who make their money here and enjoy it outside. Beside many cities and villages of our own State which thus so kindly care for the busiuess people of Gotham, and profit thereby. The State of Camden and Amboy also in the same way blesses itself immensely.

Real estate, which has so long been active, is still upward, and the average weekly transactions are very large.

General business is slowly, though surely recovering its tone. It has still rather many gloomy features, but it is thought that the further opening of Spring, the full resumption of navigation, etc., will inaugurate, in however sedate a way, the season of prosperity for which we have so long anxiously looked. It is to be hoped that we are fully ready for prosperity.

The Union League Club held a special meeting on Wednesday evening, in the old Club House, on Union Square, to fully commemorate the removal to the new quarters on Madison avenue. There was any quantity of speechifying, in which the President, the Hon. John Jay, Mr. Bailey, Jackson S. Schultz, the Hon. Wm. E. Dodge, Cols. Hawkins, Howe and Van Buren, Horace Greeley and Judge Culver participated. The building was packed with people.

Wednesday, the long-looked for Opening Day, was a day of bustle, and in more senses than one, for not only was Broadway bustling with gentle woman, as were also the shops, where were displayed diminutive and of course costly bonnets, and costly dresses, and all the mysterious details of female apparel, but the day also set forth an article something like the old-fashioned "bustle," the said article being delicately described as a "gathered puff," and called a "panick." The most radical of the changes, other than this, is the reduction of the size of crinoline, which now becomes so small that there must be no evidence of its existence when the toilettte is complete. We are exceedingly thankful on the crinoline question, but the "pannier"—why, it will run its course just like other fashions, it will increase its dimensions, it will grow in the hands of those who do not comprehend the ideas of the artist who invented it, and at last it may be as large as—well, mayhap as large as a barrel; and so imagining it in its full development this gathered puff, this "pannier," can be hailed only as something which will be dreaded hereafter, and here might follow a chapter on the mysterious, and generally wretched vagaries of Fashion, but we refrain.

Mr. Jefferson Davis and wife, attended by a colored servant, arrived at the New York Hotel on Thursday evening, and on Friday afternoon departed for Montreal. While here they remained very quiet, receiving only few visitors—no others than personal friends.

The most noticeable novelty in the world of amusement is the introduction by Mr. Bateman's excellent operatic troupe of Offenbach's "La Belle Helene," and he of the Trojan wars, of whom Homer sang. Meneleus, Paris, Colcheis, Agamemnon, Achilles, the Ajaxes, and all the other heroes are represented in the funniest way. What with the laughable situations of this opera, the good scenery, the rich costumes, the strong chorusses, etc., it promises a great success.

Certain members of the press severely denounce its sensational "elements."

LETTER FROM NEW ORLEANS.

The Opening Season--Agricultural Prospects--Health of the City.

[Special Correspondence of the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

NEW ORLEANS, March 25, 1868.

The State of Louisiana has seldom had more favorable weather for planting than that of this spring. There has been a large quantity of land planted with corn; the blade is now coming up finely. The prospects of sugar and cotton are now seen to be good, notwithstanding the many discouraging estimates hitherto circulated. Vegitation is generally putting forth, and peach, plum and other fruit trees are in full bloom. The freedmen are working better and more cheerfully than at any other time since the war; and, altogether the agricultural prospects of the State for the present year are decidedly encouraging. What gives an added encouragement is the fact that the planters have disearded the programmes of former years, and no longer entirely or nearly rely on any one crop. We hear of few instances who are devoting all their energies to cotton alone, although it still is, unfortunately, the crop of first consideration with many planters in certain parishes even now. But we are improving largely in this respect. Corn even is more of a favorite than it was last year, and in seme parishes, with a good season, we shall doubtless have twice as large a crop at the last. Tobacco planting is also attracting more attention than formerly.

The number of interments in this city last week, as reported by the Secretary of the Board of Health, was eighty.

A Mexican Booth.

The attempted murder of Juarez was modelled after Booth's more successful attempt. Colonel Adalid, for two years Prefect of Toluca, was the chief assassin. Juarez's box at the Yturbide is on the second floor, but furthest off from the stage of any box in the house. It is close to the front entrance to the building, and exceedingly easy of access. The Colonel had a guard of twelve ex-Imperial lieutenants, who, dressed as citizens, were to mount fleet horses, and, having an extra horse for him, were to appear in citizens' dress (so as not to excite suspicion) near the doors of the theatre at nine o'clock P. M., or shortly after the curtain was raised. Adalid was to enter the box, the door of which is in the rear, shoot and stab Juarez and then secure his horse aud flee. To farther aid him, fifteen or twenty of the conspirators were to place themselves near the box and around the doors so as to interrupt the passages and such as would follow the assassin. The assassination accomplished, Adalid and his men were to make for the Citadela, or arsenal, on the road of La Piedad, and where the Seventh Regiment was to move to from the palace. The garrison at the Citadela were to have hauled the flag down and run up the flag of Carlotta. Fifty men of the Seventh Regiment were to have proceeded to the residences of the members of Juarez's Cabinet and secure and hold them as prisoners. Fully one-half of this garrison, or 9,000 officers and men, were pledged to their assistance. The discovery was made by the interception of a note from one of the conspirators to Col. Garza, in command of the Seventh Regiment, which is composed mainly of young men belonging to the aristocratic families of the State of Guanajuato. The note by mistake was handed to a Lieutenant of Juarez's bodyguard, who read it, and immediately afterwards proceeded to confer with Gen. Regules. The result was the discovery of all the plans and measures on foot to further them. Cols. Adalid and Garza are in the military prison of Martinique. It is a subject of conversation that the whole affair was plotted by a chagrined Liberal General, who has made his escape, and that the conspirators were to declare for the Empress Carlotta and call her to the throne of Mexico.

MR. WADE AND THE TOWNSEND LETTER.—Some time since there appeared in a Cleveland paper what purported to be the report of a conversation between its correspondent here and Senator Wade. The most notable part of this alleged report were fabrications, without the slightest foundation in fact. Mr. Townsend, the correspondent in question, avers that he never wrote or sent anything of the kind. The paternity of this precious batch of falsehoods, like that of Japhet, must still be an object of search, if any one cares to follow it up.—Cincinnati Chronicle.

St. Louis has a high-life sensation in the Hill divorce case. In 1849 the couple wanted a divorce for "incompatibility of temperament," but now tbey come with a worse story. Mr. Hill accuses his wife of sad flirtation with a French Marquis and others, and with maliciously turning on the gas in his bed-chamber, so that he nearly suffocated. She retorts with allegations of "barbarous treatment."

THE COURTS.

United States District Court—Judge McCandless.

In the bankruptcy branch a petition was filed by John J. Coolidge, asking for a final discharge under the bankrupt act. The usual order was made.

The following persons have filed petitions for adjudication in bankruptcy: Alfred Diehl, Union county; Henry J. Gourley, Pittsburgh; Hathaway Lasey, Tioga county; Herman P. Hasson, West Newton.

Upon presentation of an affidavit from several creditors of H. J. Gourley, setting forth that the stock in the hat store of petitioner would probably deteriorate in value, the Court ordered the Marshal to sell the same and deposit the proceeds in Court for the benefit of the creditors.

District Court—Judge Williams.

The ejectment case of Wainwright vs. O'Hara occupied Friday's session without being codcluded.

Common Pleas—Judge Stowe.

In the case of Atkinson & Bro., vs. A. and W. M'Clurg, reported yesterday, the jury found for plaintiffs in the sum of $1,613.

The case of A. C. Jackson vs. N. F. Duffy was next called up. The jury was subsequently withdrawn, and a non suit ordered.

Reineman, Meyran & Co. vs. the Adams Express Co. This was an action to recover the value of goods shipped by express to Venango county, which failed to reach their destination. Verdict for plaintiffs for $304,25, subject to the opinion of Court on reserved questions of law.

James Harris and Jos. Brens vs. C. T. Ihmsen, impleaded with Arbogast & Co. These were actions to recover wages alleged to be due. Jury out.

The next case taken up was that of Dinger & Bayington vs. M'Cauley & Fisher. Action on a promissory note. Verdict for plaintiffs for $223,53.

—On Sunday week, a young man, of about nineteen years of age, by the name of Charles Cresson, who resided with his father, Jrmes Cresson, near Lansdale, took away his life by shooting himself. It appears that he wished his father to let him have a horse to visit a young lady at Lansdale; and that his parent declined doing so on account of the roads being so bad. His father soon after requested him to return to him a revolver which he had; when he replied, "he could have it after he was done with it." He went out to the barn and discharged the contents of one barrel into his right breast, and then fired another into his left side—from which wounds death speedily followed.

IN THE RED RIVER SETTLEMENT of British North America, some four hundred of the inhabitants have met in convention and formed a government of their own, for the reason that they were too far away to enjoy any at the hands of the British authorities. They have elected a President, adopted laws, defined their boundaries, and put in motion all the machinery of government.

THE PUBLICATION SOCIETY of the Catholic Church in America was organized but a short time ago, and during the last eighteen months it has distributed in the United States 1,750,600 tracts. Of this number 140,000 were distributed in prisons, hospitals and on board men-of-war and merchants vessels, and nearly 500,000 among the garrisons and posts of the regular army.

A GENTLEMAN meeting a friend the other day, asked his opinion of the Roman question. "Oh? hang the Roman question," replied the person addressed, "I'm tired of it; I wish it was at the bottom of the sea." "Not a bad idea," said the first speaker, "for in that case we might possibly get the long-desired solution of it."—News-Letter, San Francisco.

DR. SARGENT'S LIVER PILLS stand high as one of the standard medicines of the age. For the cure of all diseases arising from a disordered state of the liver, as can be attested by the certificates of large numbers of our citizens who have been benefited and cured by their use.

These Pills can be obtained, either Plain or Sugar Coated, from all Druggists in the country.

UNIMPEACHABLE.

Indigestion—the most fruitful generator of disease, so common as not to be considered dangerous—slowly and surely saps the foundation of health, for, with impaired digestion, it is impossible for food to afford strength to the system. Dyspepsia invariably follows this disease, and dyspeptics owe all their sufferings to indigestion. Nervous and sick headache also spring from derangement of the digestive organs. Persons of sedentary habits frequently suffer from these evils, which are attended with a nervous irritability of temper, extremely unpleasant to others and a source of misery to themselves. HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS has been found the safest and best means of removing all digestive obstructions, as well as bracing up the failing system. Those whose occupations are mental recognize in this preparation the perfection of medical skill, as it soothes the excited brain, headache disappears under its potent charm, and the patient rapidly regains health and strength by its restoring power. To the aged, as well as delicate ladies and children, it is admirably suited, as it possesses the quality of invigorating without excitement or reaction.

An immense amount of unimpeachable evidence can be produced to prove that HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS is unequalled for its prompt and ever reliable action in alleviating and curing all diseases of the stomach. Its superior excellence and consequent renown is readily accounted for, from the well known fact that it is made under the personal supervision of the proprietors, in strict accordance with pharmaceutic science.

ANOTHER CURE OF DEAFNESS.

I lost my hearing during the last year. Part of the time I was totally deaf. In April of this year I was induced, from an advertisement, to make application to DR. KEYSER, 120 Penn street, Pittsburgh. After having tried various medicines from doctors, without any benefit, I have been under Dr. Keyser's treatment now for nearly two months, and am entirely restored to my hearing, so that I can hear a pin drop. ANOTHER CURE.

A man called to-day at Dr. Keyser's office to inform him of a great cure made by his LUNG CURE, or PULMONARY RESTORATIVE. Ilst these cures are made with the Doctor's preparations, he desires it to be distinctly understood that most of his great cures are made in accordance with the established laws that govern the science of medicine, in which he has been engaged for the past twenty-five years. Last week he was also in receipt of a letter from a clergyman in the State of Ohio, detailing another most wonderful cure.

FINANCE AND TRADE.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, FRIDAY, April 3, 1868.

Gold declined again to-day to 137¾, after having been to 138½. The demand at these low rates is increasing, but the scarcity of money before the quarterly statement at the banks to-morrow prevents speculators from buying at present prices to have it carried. The low rates of our securities in England, even so near the half yearly interest payment, will have a tendency to strengthen the gold market as soon as the stringeney of the money market is over, and speculators may run up prices considerably at the oversold condition of the market.

Government bonds were firm and higher, especially all the old issues of 5-20s and those of 1867. Sellers, however, are predominent in the interior towns. Stocks have advanced about ½ to one per cent. throughout the entire list.

Money is even more stringent than yesterday, but it will be less difficult to obtain money on collaterals or first-class paper at the beginning of next week, and nearly everybody is willing to extend a credit for a few days for paper outside the bank.

—At the special meeting of the stockholders of the Cleveland & Pittsburgh Railroad, at Cleveland, last week, the following resolution was unanimously adopted, the whole vote being 76,558:

Resolved, That, by and under the provisions of an act of the Legislature of Ohio, of April 11, 1858, the directors of the Cleveland & Pittsburgh Railroad Company are hereby authorized, at their discretion, to increase the capital stock of the Company to the amount of 10 per cent. of the present capital stock, and to divide the same among the shareholders pro rata on the amount of stock held by them respectively at this date, as shown by the books of the Company, and under such provisions as to fractional shares as the directors deem proper.

—The last circular of Belding, Keith & Co., American bankers, in London, says: The cause why the United States credit is so low here is not because there are not funds to be had in abundance at a moderate rate, but because of the doubt, uncertainty, and, we may almost say, entire distrust as to the good faith of the United States. Remove that, and you can put things on a specie basis, and have your bonds at par here at five per cent., but for the present not less than six per cent. will command par. At this moment the securities of Massachusetts are twenty per cent. in value above those of the Union, because investors believe in the honesty of Massachusetts, and are not so fully persuaded of the Federal honor; yet contending parties would still further imperil the credit of the nation to secure their immediate ends.

PITTSBURGH MARKETS.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, FRIDAY, April 3, 1868.

The general markets are quiet but steady, and while the demand for all of the leading commodities is restricted mainly to supplying immediate wants, there is, nevertheless, a fair volume of business, in the aggregate, and, generally speaking, prices are without any material changes.

APPLES—Green Apples are scarce, and in steady local demand, and we can report regular sales in store at $4 to $6 per bbl.

BUTTER—Continues dull and weak, under the influence of increased arrivals, and prices are barely maintained; we now quote prime to choice Roll at 45 to 48c, and 50c.

EGGS—In good supply and dull, and cannot fairly be quoted above 20c.

PITTSBURGH PETROLEUM MARKET.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, FRIDAY, April 3, 1868.

CRUDE—The crude market is quiet but firm, and while the demand is not very brisk, the offerings are light, and so far as we can learn, there are no sellers at a reduction. We can report 1000 bbls for April seller's option, at 8¾c; 1000 for April or May, same option, at 8¾c; and 800 to 1000 bbls to be delivered on first water at 8¾c. There is no room to say anything about spot oil, as there is none in market. A telegram from Oil City says: "Market somewhat firmer, but prices remain unchanged; sales on creek at $2,75, and held at $3,10 delivered on cars here. Weather clear and warm." In response to a message sent by dealers here, asking what was the lowest figure it could be bought at, the reply was $3,10. It is said that the cause of firmness there is in consequence of Cleveland buyers having again entered the field, and there is generally an advance when buyers from that place commence operations at the wells.

REFINED—The market for bonded oil was reported a little weak to-day, but thus far there is no change in prices. We can report 1000 bbls for the last half of June, seller's option, at 26½c; 1000 for same delivery, buyer's option, at 26¾c; and 500 for last half of April, at 25½c. We heard that 28½c had been offered for the last five months, and 25½c for April, and a half advance until July.

CITY AND SUBURBAN.

To Subscribers.

Those of our friends who change their places of residence or business should leave word at this office, and thereby secure the prompt delivery of the GAZETTE.

Sheriff's Sales.

On our inside to-day will be found the advertisement of our efficient Sheriff, S. B. Cluley, Esq., announcing numerous pieces of valuable real estate which will be exposed at public sale, at the Court House, on Monday, the 29th day of April. The advertisements will bear careful perusal by capitalists and others wishing to invest in desirable property.

Teachers' Institute.

Yesterday the Teachers' Institute again held a session. The exercises were opened with scripture reading and prayer by Rev. Mr. Wylie. The able report on Algebra by Prof. Munro and an exceedingly interesting and well written essay by Miss Anna Heckert were then read. After a sweet song by Miss Hattie M'Cormick, Rev. Wylie favored the Institute with an amusing school gymnastic drill. A learned and argumentative address was delivered by Hon. C. R. Coburn, Deputy State Superintendent, which was listened to with marked attention. The Committee on Resolutions reported a set of resolutions as follows:

Returning thanks to the ministers and other gentlemen, not teachers, who participated in the exercises, and the different choirs that enlivened the proceedings with such excellent music, especially to Profs. Slack, Darling, Horner and Jackson, who compose the Allegheny Quartette Club, to the reporters of the press, Directors of the Fourth ward school, and Trustees of the Reformed Presbyterian Church. Thanking Prof. Douthett for the able and impartial manner he presided over the body, and his industry and energy as County Superintendent. Declaring the cancellation of professional certificates now held, by an act of Assembly at the instance of a majority of the County Superintendents, a violation of faith as said certificates were given with the pledge that they should be permanent. Returning thanks as educators to the National Department of Education at Washington, and to our State Department of Common Schools for their exertions in favor of more liberal appropriations for the support of public instruction. Urging the establishment in this county of a State Normal School for the Eleventh Normal School District, and thanking the enterprising citizens who have been laboring in behalf of such an institution.

AFTERNOON SESSION.

The choir and audience joined in singing "Coronation," after which a lecture on English Grammar was delivered by Prof. M. B. Goff.

An essay by Miss Mattie Boggs, of the Ninth Ward School, Pittsburgh. Subject: "The Earth a Model School." The essay was well written, contained beautiful thoughts, and was read in an admirable manner.

Rev. Wylie then gave a drill in gymnastics, in connection with vocal culture—an admirable performance, which could be used advantageously in the school room.

An address was then made by Hon. C. R. Coburn.

EVENING SESSION.

Meeting called to order by Chairman. Music by the Allegheny Quartette Club. Mr. Robert Kelly returned thanks to the Institute for the kind resolution passed one year ago relative to the death of his father, John Kelly, who had been a teacher in Allegheny county for over forty years.

Music by the Club, "The old Mountain Tree."

Lecture by Rev. S. F. Scovil, subject: "Courage as an element of Character."

Song, "All nature now rejoices," by the Quartette Club.

After a short humorous speech by Mr. McClellan, the Club sung, "The unfortunate man."

Prof. Bancroft read a humorous piece.

Song, "Kingdom Coming," by Prof. Horner.

The following gentlemen were elected honorary members: Revs. Robert McMillan, W. T. Wylie, J. C. Steele, (Col.) J. B. Clark, T. K. Beecher, A. H. Elder, S. F. Scovel, Joseph King, John McMullan, Alex. Clark, Jno. S. Speer, J. R. Newell, B. M. Kerr, and J. F. White, Esq. Profs. W. Slack, Horner, Jackson, Darling, Song.

THE MUSIC.

One of the most pleasing features of the Institute was the music furnished by different parties. A class of young ladies from Mr. McClymond's school, of East Birmingham, led by Mr. Jones, furnished music on Wednesday, and certainly did great credit to themselves and their conductor. The Allegheny Quartette Club, consisting of Professors Darling, Horner, Jackson and Slack, leader, furnished music Wednesday, Thursday and Friday evenings.

The remainder of the sessions were furnished with music by a choir composed of lady and gentlemen teachers, viz: Misses Hattie M'Cormick, Rachie M'Clane, Sadie May, Ella M'Cutcheon, Maggie Lindsay, Fannie Martin, Ollie Robertson, John Morrow, Lewis Rodgers, J. P. Andrews and J. J. Snodgrass, leader. The music furnished appeared to be duly appreciated by the frequently tired audience, and we think it but due to say that the members of this choir deserve great credit for perseverance in attendance and promptness when called for.

Assault and Battery Cases.

John McDermot made information before Alderman Strain, charging James Dillon with assault and battery. He alleges that the accused attacked his son, a lad about twelve years of age, kicking and beating him with stones. The parties reside in Lawrenceville. A warrant was issued for the arrest of Dillon.

Margaret Muck was charged on oath of Sarah Kennedy, before Alderman Strain, with assault and battery, and Margaret made information charging Sarah with a like offense. The parties reside in Limerick, in South Pittsburgh, and it appears had a regular "ruction" Thursday evening, during which Margaret was struck on the head with a skillet, receiving a severe wound. They were both arrested and held for a hearing.

Mary Jackson, who, it appears, was a party in the row, received a blow on the head from a fire shovel, in the hands of Sarah Kennedy, in consequence of which she made information, charging Sarah with assault and battery, and Sarah preferred a similar charge against her. They were both arrested and held for a hearing.

Matthew McCain made information before Alderman Strain, charging Henry Rice with assault and battery. Rice, it appears, occupied a tenement belonging to the prosecutor, which he refused to give possession of on the 1st of April, whereupon a fight ensued. Rice was arrested and held for a hearing.

Illicit Distillery Seized—The Proprietor Held in $1,000 for Trial.

Yesterday morning Robert Woods, of Robert Woods & Co., wholesale liquor dealers at 315 Liberty street, was arrested and taken before United States Commissioner Gamble on a charge of illicit distilling. George W. Keyser, the prosecutor, alleges that several days since he made an examination of the premises and found a still in operation in the cellar, and all the necessary appointments for carrying on a distillery. A hearing was had in the case, after which the accused was held to bail in the sum of $1,000 for his appearance to answer at the next term of the United States District Court.

Temporary Home for Destitute Women.

The Managers of the Women's Christian Association have decided that some explanation may be due to those who contributed toward the establishment of a temporary Home for destitute women, with the idea that it was to be a kind of "soup house," and conducted on a large scale, similar to the one on Penn street for men.

When this plan was first contemplated it was very cold weather, the necessities of the case were very urgent, and it was believed a large house on Grant street could be rented for the purpose.

It was found impossible, however, to obtain a clear title to the lease of the property, without some legal trouble. This, added to the high price demanded for the furniture of said house, and the uselessness of much of it for the proposed Home, when received in connection with the amount of taxes on so large a house, induced the ladies to choose another location.

It was believed a safer and more economical investment, to purchase a small house, upon easy terms of payment, and furnish it by donations. No suitable place could be had before April 1st, and by that time the "soup-house" plan had proved impracticable for many reasons. A house, No. 45 Chatham street, has now been secured, one payment made, and the Association purpose taking possession immediately.

A committee has been appointed who will receive all applications, and none will, at any time, be admitted to the "Home," except by order of one of these ladies. Mrs. Wm. A. Herron, 95 Penn st., and Miss Jane Holmes, 96 Penn st., are the receiving committee in Pittsburgh. Mrs. R. W. Poindexter will receive applications from persons in Allegheny.

Donations of plain, serviceable furniture, (bed-steads excepted), with any other articles needed to furnish such a house, will be received by the matron, if sent to the Home.

The Managers are very desirous of making a second payment on this house and will also need funds for its support. Cash contributions may be given to any of the officers or Managers of the Association. President, Mrs. T. R. Brunot. Vice President, Mrs. Wm. A. Herron. Treasurer, Miss Anna Thaw. Secretary, Miss Mattie J. Fowler. Librarian, Miss Lizzie Wade. Managers, Mrs. R. Robinson, Mrs. Wm. Vankirk, Mrs. W. P. Logan, Mrs. Frank Woods, Mrs. Caroline Nelson, Mrs. L. S. Johns, Mrs. James Irwin, Mrs. R. W. Poindexter, Mrs. Samuel McKee, Mrs. Eliza Loomis, Mrs. Clapp, and Miss Jane Holmes.

By preserving the names of the receiving committee the public may know, at all times, where to send applicants for admission and save much delay and trouble.

Surety of the Peace.

John J. Reynolds, Agent of the Merchants' Union Express Company, made information before Alderman M'Masters against Philip Gabriel for surety of the peace. Philip was an inmate of the Home of the destitute, the managers of which procured him a situation as driver for the express company. It appears that he forgot the good teachings he received at the "Home," and returned to his old habit of drunkenness, in consequence of which he was discharged. Blaming Mr. Reynolds for discharging him, he threatened to whip him, and followed him for that purpose until Mr. R. was compelled to make the information. A warrant was issued for his arrest.

Samuel Saddler made information before Alderman Taylor yesterday, against David Connelly for surety of the peace. The parties reside at Minersville. Connelly was arrested and held for a hearing.

John M'Dermot made information before Alderman Strain against Owen Thomas and James Dillon, for surety of the peace, in which he alleges that they threatened to burn his property. The parties reside in Lawreneeville. The two former were arrested and committed for a hearing. A warrant is in the hands of the officers for the arrest of James.

Geo. Teets arrested on oath of M. A. Cox, for surety of the peace, was taken before Deputy Mayor Austin yesterday, who, in default of bail for his appearance committed him to jail.

An Insane Man.—Yesterday evening Peter Welford, an insane man, was brought to the lock-up by his brother, who, it appears, has brought him from Springfield, Illinois. Welford was a resident of Somerset county, from where he ran away several months since and went west. It was the intention of his brother to take him home, but his means were exhausted before reaching this point. He will remain in the lock-up until his brother can go home and procure money, when he will probably be taken to Dixmont.

The Reported Strike.—The reported strike among the iron workers was only participated in by the "heaters," who compose a small minority of the iron men, and none of the mills, we are informed, were compelled to stop operations in consequence of it, as the places of the "strikers" were immediately filled by new men. The puddlers have not engaged in the strike, but show a disposition to adhere to the arrangement entered into with the manufacturers last fall.

The Riot.—The parties arrested a few day since, charged with complicity in the riot at O'Neil's coal works, had a hearing yesterday morning, which resulted in the discharge of all except Thomas Nixon, Jos. Anson and Jonathan Tillet, who were the only persons the witnesses for the prosecution could identify as having been among the rioters. They were held to bail in the sum of $1,000 each for their appearance at Court.

Alleged "Professional" Arrested.—Chief Green yesterday arrested John Donnelly, suspecting him to be a professional thief. He had in his possession when arrested a silver pitcher, supposed to have been stolen. There was not sufficient evidence against him, however, upon which to base an information, and the Mayor committed him for ninety days on the charge of being a professional thief.

Academy of Music.—Religious services on to-morrow (Sabbath) afternoon, commencing at a quarter past three o'clock. A sermon will be delivered by the Rev. W. J. Reid. All persons not in attendance at public worship elsewhere are invited. Seats free.

Larceny of a Whip.—Thomas McKee, a driver for the Merchants' Union Express Company, was charged on oath of Geo. W. Echoff yesterday, before Alderman Strain, with the larceny of a whip valued at $2,75. A warrant was issued for his arrest.

Committed for a Hearing.—Peter Connerman, charged on oath of Joseph Lawtner with fraud before Alderman Mullen, was arrested yesterday and in default of bail was committed for a hearing.

Union Republican County Convention.

The Union Republican County Executive Committee held a meeting Friday afternoon at the office of C. C. Taylor, Esq. There was a full attendance of members, and a general discussion of matters relating to the coming County Conventions.

The following resolutions were adopted:

Resolved, That the Republican members of the election boards he requested to hold the primary ejections in the several districts as far as practicable.

Resolved, That the Chairman of this Committee (Jacob H. Miller, Esq.,) appoint a Committee of three Republican voters of the Third ward, Pittsburgh, who shall hold the primary elections in said ward, with power to fix the place and give notice of the same.

Fire at Oil City.

The Titusville Herald, of Thursday, says: About nine o'clock yesterday morning a fire broke out in the small wooden building occupied as a tailor shop on the north side of Centre street, Oil City, at the corner of the Creek. The fire spread eastwardly along the street, destroying Jaseph Zook & Co.'s housefurnishing store, and a dwelling house, owned and occupied by a man named Stanley. The building adjoining the dwelling house, occupied by Zook & Co. as a plumbing and gas fitting shop, was torn down to prevent farther destruction. The fire, however, communicated to the ruins of the building that had been torn down and then to the adjoining building. The latter was considerably injured by both fire and water, but the greater portion of it was saved. The loss is estimated at $1,500, and that on the stocks $500. There was no insurance.

Report of Street Commissioner.

John D. McFadden, Street Commissioner of the Second District, furnishes the following facts relative to the amount of work performed in his district during the month of March, 1868: Ice cut from seven miles, nine hundred and forty-six yards and two feet of gutter from March 1st to March 10th. Number of streets cleaned from March 16th to March 30th, twenty-three; covering an area of ninety-two thousand four hundred square yards. Paving done in repairing streets, eight hundred and ninety-six and two-thirds yards. During the month there were three thousand eight hundred and eighty-one loads of dirt, ground, &c., hauled in cleaning and repairing streets.

Abandonment.—Rosanna Miller made information before Alderman Thomas, charging her husband, Alexander Miller, with desertion. It is alleged by the prosecutrix that he has taken away most of the furniture, and left her without any means of support. The accused was arrested and held to bail for his appearance at Court.

Committed.—Patrick Bannon was arrested yesterday charged with obtaining money under false pretence, on oath of P. Z. Leymon, and taken before Deputy Mayor Owston, who committed him to jail, in default of the required bail for his appearance at Court.

Is Laughing Gas Dangerous?

Some parties, either from ignorance or from interested motives, have seen fit to assert that laughing gas is dangerous. A very slight acquaintance with the nature of the article, a very little scientific knowledge, will show how utterly absurd the statement is. They might with more accuracy charge that the atmosphere we breathe every day was dangerous, for it is composed of precisely the same constituents (nitrogen and oxygen) as is laughing gas; the difference being that the proportion of the component upon which we depend for existence, oxygen, is greater in the laughing gas than in the atmospheric air. Atmospheric air consists of four-fifths nitrogen, which will not sustain life, and one-fifth oxygen, without which we could not live. Every one acquainted with chemistry knows this is correct, and no one claiming scientific knowledge will dare deny it. It does not require a medical diploma to enable one, with these facts before him, to judge if laughing gas, composed of the same components as the atmosphere, and having the vital principal in more than twice the proportion the atmosphere has, is dangergerous. So far from it, it exerts a decidedly beneficial influence upon the system, which is felt in the exhilerating effects which follow its use, and is only paralleled by the buoyancy of spirits one enjoys in a high state of health.

For five years past Dr. G. W. Spencer has been administering Laughing Gas to persons afflicted with tooth-ache, but dreading the pain of having the teeth drawn, and he has yet to meet with the individual who was not satisfied with the result. Therefore, if you need a tooth extracted, go to Dr. Spencer's Dental Establishment, No. 254 Penn street, the largest and best fitted in the city, and take the Laughing Gas, and have no fear for the result. The Doctor, besides being a good dentist, is a thorough gentleman. You will, under his hands, find tooth drawing something no longer to be dreaded.

Prize Medals for Sewing Machines—What are They Worth?

Ever since the award of premiums at the Paris Exposition, the puplic have been bored with statements concerning the claims of the Howe, the Florence, the Weed, the Wheeler & Wilson, and the Grover & Baker manufacturing companies to the first honors (?) of that effair. The machines of each of these companies are claimed to be the best because the manufacturers received a medal or a ribbon to that effect. As so many obtained the same prize we can't see where the honor comes in. Now, the Singer Sewing Machine was not placed on exhibition at the World's Fair in Paris, for the very good reason that it does not depend upon medals or ribbons for its success. The merit of this machine rests upon its ever faithful performance of all that is claimed for it, and having been adequately used in all parts of the civilized world, and awarded the people's verdict in its favor, it can well afford to stand aside and let its feeble rivals find what they can in the worthless awards of fair committees. It is a fact that the Singer Machine has been less advertised than any other, and yet so highly is it esteemed that for the year 1867 this company sold 5,000 more machines than any other. The simple and natural increase of the businass of the Singer Company for 1867 was seven thousand machines, which increase is equal to three times the entire sales of the Empire Company, and nearly twice the entire sales of the Weed Company for the same period. In the same year the business of the Wheeler & Wilson Manufacturing Company fell off twelve thousand. These are facts which will stand investigation, but we doubt whether the manner in which medals and ribbons of the Fairs are obtained will bear any scrutiny at all. Wonderful improvements have been made in the Singer Sewing Machine, and it is now the best machine for family and manufacturing purposes. Its sales in this vicinity are already very large and the demand is still increasing. It is light, durable, simple and noiseless, and ought to find a place in every family in the land. Straw & Morton, General Western Agents, corner of St. Clair and Penn streets.

Deafness—A Man Nearly Eighty Years Old Cured.

The following notice of a cure of deafness was published during last summer, and since then the gentleman has continued entirely well, having called on Dr. Keyser during the present week. It ought to be a source of gratification to those of our readers who for a long time have suffered with chronic maladies, that there should be some one whose skill and ability could be depended on.

There are hundreds of cases of deafness and partial deafness, most of which would be greatly relieved, and many of them entirely cured by appropriate remedies. The case immediately under our notice is that of Mr. Jacob Boobyer, of Green Tree, Allegheny county, who for a great many years has been afflicted with partial deafness, so that he could not hear the ticking of a watch. The deafness was complete in one ear, in the other only partial, with a continual noise like that made by the escaping of steam. Mr. Boobyer placed himself under Dr. Keyser's treatment late in July, and now he is well, and has been so for a month past. The cure seems to be thorough, and what seems to be the more remarkable, is the extreme age of the patient, he being in his seventy-ninth year. Mr. Boobyer is a well known and respectable citizen, and has a son in this city. Dr. Keyser's consultation rooms at his residence, No. 120, corner of Penn street and Evans alley, from 9 a. m. until 4 p. m.

Dr. George Keyser occupies a large portion of our paper to-day in presenting his views upon the treatment of chronic affections, accompanied by a number of the highest testimonials to his professional success, and our readers will be interested and instructed by giving the treatise a careful perusal. Dr. Keyser has been steadily pursuing his profession in this city for at least a quarter of a century, and has achieved a reputation which places him in the front rank of physicians. He has been for years a benefactor to this community and the proofs of his medical skill are to be found on every side. Dr. Keyser, however, needs no encomium from us in a city where his high character as a physician and a citizen is properly appreciated by thousands who knew him even before we were born.—Evening Advocate.
